

MORNING APPEAL

THURSDAY.....JULY 7

HARDY VETERANS.

Looking at the parade last Monday one could not help being struck with the bearing of the Veterans.

One is apt to associate the word with men of grey locks and bent figures, who are in the sunset of declining years; a charge on their country or their relations.

But the Veterans who marched in the parade seemed men of different mould. They were in the prime of life, walking with head erect and step elastic. Some had the bearing of athletes, and it was hard to realize that these men had faced and almost tasted death in a war that ended a quarter of a century ago.

Even those whose hair had been bleached by hardship and exposure, "Trod the ling, like a buck in Spring, And stood like a lance at rest."

There are various reasons for this. In the first place, toward the close of the war, boys of sixteen with a good physical development, were accepted for military service, and they would not be much over 40 years of age today.

Then most of the young men of the war, after being mustered out, sought the West. They were young soldiers, full of animal spirits, ginger and adventure, and the West offered inducements to them not to be found in the staid old States of their childhood.

The old men drifted back home to end their days in peace, and those of younger, warmer blood followed the sun.

This is why so many "veterans," are found on this Coast who are still in the prime of manhood, and physically capable of going through another war.

It is also a fact that men who have slept in the open air for years, eaten hard fare and become inured to the life of camp and field, get hardened and healthy, and if they have the constitution to bear them through the ordeal, carry the weight of years as lightly as an empty knapsack.

THE OMAHA NOMINEES.

The People's Party through their convention at Omaha have nominated James B. Weaver, of Iowa, for President of the United States, and James G. Field of Virginia, as Vice President.

The platform contains the following plank:

We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1.

There are other planks in the platform relating to banking, railroads, government ownership of telegraph lines and land holdings, but the silver plank is just as the people of Nevada would like to see it.

It is just the sort of a plank that the Minneapolis and Chicago Convention should have adopted, but did not.

If a silver bill is not passed during the present session, and have the signature of Harrison attached to it, the State of Nevada will cast its three electoral votes for Weaver and Field.

While Weaver was in Congress, he was for gold and silver as money and never lost an opportunity of denouncing the infamous anti-silver legislation of '73.

He also insisted that the soldiers should be paid in the same money as the bond holders, as he held that the man who risked his life for his country was as good as the man who risked his money.

Capital's Bloody Work.

The terrible riot at Pittsburg yesterday will send a thrill of horror over the country.

Fifteen locked out men who are denied the right to earn their bread except at Andrew Carnegie's scale of wages, were shot down by Pinkerton's detectives. Their fellow workmen then rose, and in a bloody fight vanquished and captured the detectives. This is a bad thing to happen on the eve of a Presidential election.

The iron industry of Pennsylvania is protected by bullets, when the silver industry of the West is ignored.

The bloody work of yesterday will tell in the great fight now being waged between protected capital and starved labor, in the United States. So long as silver is demonetized and money made scarce, so long will labor riots emphasize the true state of affairs in the country.
